KCKCC Releases Blue Devils Comeback Plan
On behalf of the Board of Trustees of Kansas City Kansas Community College it is my pleasure to share with you the College’s 2019-2020 annual report.

This has certainly been a year of unique challenges as the college faced the uncertainties created by COVID-19. But despite the challenges and uncertainties, KCKCC has had a successful year in providing high quality educational experiences for all of our students. The year began with the start of our new 3-year strategic plan which has four broad objectives: 1) Student Success; 2) Quality Programs and Services; 3) Employee Engagement; 4) and Community Engagement. These four objectives will be the drivers for our college over the next three years in providing the educational opportunities our students and our community need.

This report identifies some of the many important initiatives that were launched or continued during the year that support the college’s four objectives and for which the board is very supportive and appreciative.

A huge “thank you” must go to the college administration, faculty and staff for another successful year in the face of the virus that caused the disruption of educational services in March. Under the leadership of President Mosier, the college rallied together and put in place a plan to address the needs of our students both academically and socially. Safety was the first priority in planning for the re-opening of classes and facilities for both students and employees. The second semester ended, virtual graduation ceremonies took place, and summer classes have begun. Kansas City Kansas Community College is open and thriving.

The Board of Trustees are extremely proud of the ongoing work being done by the college on behalf of our students and community. And the future holds even greater things ahead. It is truly an exciting time to be a Blue Devil!

SINCERELY,

Ray Daniels, Ed.D.
Chair KCKCC Board of Trustees
I am so very thankful for the incredible work done by the KCKCC faculty and staff this year! Due to everyone’s dedication and determination, our Blue Devils began the year with greatness, preparing our students to be successful in the classroom, on the court and fields, and in life.

We started the year with new technology-enhanced classrooms, updated student common spaces and the reopening of the on-campus childcare center. Going to where people need us the most, we proudly expanded our services to the community, offering courses for the first time at Wyandotte High School, the University of Kansas Hospital and the Amazon fulfillment center. Throughout the fall and into the spring, we continued with KCKCC students thriving and achieving excellence in academic, athletic and co-curricular events.

In March, when the Coronavirus sent the world into a global pandemic, the heart and spirit of Kansas City Kansas Community College Blue Devils was felt by all. Faculty, staff and students rose to the occasion as all classes were moved online to allow for social distancing and keeping our community safe. And on May 25, when the world changed again with the death of George Floyd, the faculty and staff rose again to let their voices be heard as we collectively vow to condemn racism and bigotry, and increase our efforts to achieve diversity and inclusion for all people, no matter our difference.

Being an institution of learning, it is critical that we learn from the lessons of this year. Each of us must do our part to create a world of greater equity for all and opportunities for social and economic mobility for our underserved and disenchanted communities.

As we look forward into the future, into a year of ambiguity and the unknown, our path is clear as we are driven by our mission to: Inspire individuals and enrich our community one student at a time.

This annual report tells more than the story of our year, it speaks to the remarkable passion, dedication, perseverance and indomitable spirit of our staff, faculty and students. Together, working as one, I know there is nothing we cannot achieve! #BlueDevilStrong!

SINCERELY,

Dr. Greg Mosier
President
FORGING AHEAD

The donation is being made in an effort to help bring museum quality artwork to those who may not otherwise have the opportunity to see it. Pieces have been selected and installation will begin in Summer 2020. Blitt’s works have been featured in more than 70 solo exhibitions and have been showcased in many museums and private collections including the Nelson-Atkins Museum of Art, Kemper Museum of Contemporary Art, the John F. Kennedy Library, the National Museum of Singapore and the Kennedy Museum of American Art, among others.
KCKCC CONTINUES TO MAKE PLANS FOR DOWNTOWN LOCATION

KCKCC is continuing to collaborate with business and community leaders to create a one-of-a-kind community education center in downtown Kansas City, Kansas. Partnering with KU, YMCA, Wyandot Behavioral Health Center, and High Aspirations this center will offer students and community members a holistic approach to education and provide services such as ESL and GED classes, technical and academic programs, and 4-year programs among other services.

KCKCC APPROVES NEW STRATEGIC PLAN

Strategic Planning

Kansas City Kansas Community College released its 2020-2023 Strategic Plan, entitled “Centennial Path” in August. The plan, which was approved by the KCKCC Board of Trustees during its June 2019 meeting, provides direction as the college approaches its 100th anniversary in 2023. Within the plan are the college’s newly created Mission and Vision Statements. In addition, the Strategic Plan identifies four priorities – Student Success, Quality Programs and Services, Employee Engagement and Community Engagement. Within each of these priorities are several goals and initiatives.

NEW SPACES WELCOME KCKCC STUDENTS FOR FALL SEMESTER

Summer 2019 was a busy one at KCKCC. In addition to the typical summer projects, there were big changes made in the student area known as the “Watering Hole” as well as to four new technology-enhanced classrooms. The Humanities Watering Hole, located on the lower level of the Humanities Building, is a popular study spot on the KCKCC Main Campus. It was freshly painted with a new color scheme and a brand new mural was completed by artist Vania Soto. New furniture was added to make the area more conducive to studying, socializing or just relaxing. The four new student classrooms, located in the Social and Behavioral Sciences Hallway across from the President’s Office, are equipped with three or four large wall monitors (depending on the size of the room) and individual white boards and all of the classrooms have mobile furniture. The mobile furniture allows the professor to easily configure and reconfigure the room to support different methods of instruction and active learning strategies.
KCKCC-TEC UNVEILS NEW EQUIPMENT MADE POSSIBLE BY HONEYWELL GRANT

KCKCC was pleased to welcome representatives from Honeywell to the Dr. Thomas R. Burke Technical Education Center Feb. 26. The $62,500 machine technology grant from Honeywell helped the college to purchase a 5-axis CNC machine. The grant also supports Honeywell’s HOPE Scholarship program for students who are interested in pursuing careers in manufacturing. Several KCKCC students are part of this program. Learning how to operate the 5-axis CNC machine is a skillset that will better prepare KCKCC students to be career ready after their completion of the KCKCC program.

TWO KCK NATIVES HONORED AT WOMEN’S EQUALITY DAY EVENT

KCKCC celebrated Women’s Equality Day Aug. 23 where two KCK icons were recognized - former KCK Mayor and lifelong educator Carol Marinovich and Kansas State Representative Kathy Wolfe Moore. Women’s Equality Day commemorates the granting of women the right to vote in the United States. First proposed in 1878, women known as suffragettes worked peacefully for more than 70 years to gain equal voting rights. Some would try to pass suffrage acts in individual states. Others organized parades, vigils or even hunger strikes. After President Woodrow Wilson changed his position and started supporting a woman’s right to vote, other politicians soon followed his lead. On Aug. 26, 1920, the 19th Amendment to the United States Constitution was certified as law, and since 1972, every president has issued a proclamation for Women’s Equality Day.

Depending on how serious the crime is, convictions or diversions can be expunged three or five years after the case is satisfied, giving individuals a chance to start over with no criminal record.

It was guided by information collected from several organizations with expertise in the field of disease control and public health preparedness. Key documents that were considered when developing this plan were - Interim Guidance for Administrators of US Institutions of Higher Education (Center for Disease Control), Ad Astra: A Plan to Reopen Kansas (Kansas, Office of the Governor) and ReStartWYCO (Wyandotte County Health Department/U.G.). The comprehensive plan provided a guide of best practices and contains requirements KCKCC implemented to help ensure the health and well-being of the entire college community. This plan began May 18, the day all locations reopened to faculty, staff and the community and continued to be in effect through the summer 2020 term. The American Association of Community Colleges highlighted the plan in May on both their website and social media accounts.
