E-Journal Spring 2010 Edition

By: Ewa Unoke Ph.D. (Editor)

Welcome to the Sixth Edition of the E-Journal. In this issue, the thematic concentration include: health, education, poem and prose. We are thrilled to publish Mehdi Shariati's timely article, "Hegemony and the U.S. Health Care Crisis;" Ed Kremer's piece on the "KCKCC Urban Academy;" and Deb Taylor's " A New Pathway for KCKCC Students." This edition also features the winners of the KCKCC Third Annual Creative Writing Contest for the 2010 academic year. There are two genres of judgment (poem and prose) and three places given to each. The Editorial Board and the Editor congratulate the authors of this edition. To the KCKCC community, and our worldwide readership, we appreciate your continued patronage. Please send your new or long-forgotten manuscripts to the editor for review and possible publication. Remember, the life-span of the written word is much longer than our own. Now, is the time to etch your foot-prints on the sands of time.
